Over the past two years, the pharmacy landscape in Algeria has witnessed important and remarkable milestones. The later were the creation of a ministry dedicated to the pharmaceutical industry, the authorization of vaccination against COVID-19 in community pharmacies and recently the vaccination against seasonal flu and the creation of the Faculty of Pharmacy.

Academic studies play an essential role in the development of competent healthcare professionals capable of meeting the public health needs; pharmacists thus play a key role in ensuring the effective and responsible use of medicines.

In this context, three central themes will be discussed at this scientific event:

- University studies in the field of pharmaceutical sciences;
- Different career paths available to graduates in pharmaceutical sciences;
- Research and development in pharmaceutical sciences.
